RED SOX ARE NO LONGER HOODOO TO DONOVAN'S YANKS

New York, May 29.—Last year the Yanks were the only team which made any impression on Carigan's Sox, and beat them on the years series, 12 to 10. So far this season New York has won seven out of ten from the Sox, winning six straight games from Carigan's World's Champions. The Yankee percentage of .593 is by far the highest the Yanks have owned this late in May in years and years.

The Yankees have taken a decided brace in their hitting, and what is more, they are making their hits count. For a stretch they were having 10, 12 and 13 men left every day, and nothing is more discouraging to a manager than to have a club repeatedly get men on and be unable to score them.

When McKeehan started to hit the Giants started to win. The same thing may be said for Magee. Last week Lee rapped out eight hits in the six games, including a homer and two doubles, for an average of .343. That is some improvement over Lee's .180 pace.

Perhaps what is the most amazing about the club's recent spurt is that it came after two players, Baker and Peckinpah, considered leading cogs in the machine, had to be benched on account of injuries, after Malcol, Mogridge and Caldwell, other top-liners, already were in the Red Cross tent.

Baumann and Booge have more than held up their end on the left side of the infield. Paddy is hitting somewhere around .500, while Boone also is getting on a great deal. Pipp's all-around work last week was nothing short of phenomenal. Wallie's batting average has been mounting in leaps and bounds, while Gilhooly and High have been doing their share in worrying the pitchers. As for Walters, he gets better in every game.

Urge Gov. Major As Wilson's Running Mate

ELLIOTT W. MAJOR

Delegates to the Democratic national convention, opening in St. Louis June 14, are being urged to support Governor Elliott W. Major of Missouri for vice president on the ticket with President Wilson. Missouri Democrats have undertaken an active canvass in Governor Major's behalf. This fact is arousing considerable interest, because the friends of Vice President Marshall are understood to have regarded his renomination as probable, if not a foregone conclusion. The Missouri candidate has been formally endorsed by the Democratic state convention of his state. Major of Missouri Means a Majority in the Middle West" has been adopted as the slogan of the governor's boomers. Governor Major, who is fifty years old, is a friend of Speaker Clark. He hails from Bowling Green, the speaker's home-city, and studied law in Mr. Clark's office. He was elected to the state senate in 1896, attorney general of the state in 1908 and governor in 1912.

Walking On The Ceiling

It can be done. Circus acrobats have proved it.

You know that performers who swing along head downward have attached to their feet a device exactly like a small boy's "sucker."

Trying to increase gambler's profits is like walking on the ceiling. It means taking a big risk on the chance of getting a little more money.

Sooner or later the "sucker" is bound to fail and there are not likely to be any safety nets.

If we in Bridgeport delude ourselves into believing we can keep on collecting abnormal profits we do not earn, we are ceiling walkers.

We can't keep all the war profits, but we can keep a big generous prosperity with factories running full time, good hours, good wages, busy stores if we earn it—if we convert the gambler's profits into real values and make them permanent.

The first permanent value we want to safeguard is the GREATEST OF ALL—HOMES.

We have made a real start. But if YOU are going to pass the responsibility to a few men who are tackling the problem with the grim, earnest determination to solve it in the right way, YOU are a mighty poor citizen and a worse business man.

You are against your own interest and against the city. You are not a partner, but an outsider, grafting on the work others are doing.

PRACTICAL HEALTH HINT.

Bathing.

Authorities may vary in discussing the merits of the hot bath, but they all agree in the abstract that bathing is necessary to good health. The removal of the skin of the accumulation of refuse matter is the primary reason for the bath.

A bath should not be taken too near mealtime. There is a normal attraction of the blood toward the stomach after eating. Any interference with this and the attraction of the blood toward the surface of the body is apt to arrest digestion.

Warm baths have a soothing effect and often are prescribed for nervousness. The tepid bath can do no harm. Cold baths are stimulating, but apt to be injurious if the heart action is not strong enough to permit of a ready reaction. To some individuals the shock to the nervous system is so great that they cannot accustom themselves to cold baths.

Heavy Heels.

Mrs. Newed—I would like a pound of your best cheese.

Grocer—Yes, ma'am.

Mrs. Newed (examining it)—Why, this cheese is full of holes.

Grocer—Yes, ma'am; that's the way it comes.

Mrs. Newed—Well, I don't want any of it. I'm not going to pay for a pound of cheese that contains a half pound of holes!

Shape No Object.

Butcher—Will you have a round steak, ma'am? Mrs. Youngbridge—I don't care what shape it is, so it's tender.—Boston Transcript.

Occasional depression no one can avoid, but ill temper everybody can.

When Your Foot Is Asleep.

After being for a long time in a constrained attitude a peculiar numbness and pricking are often felt in the arm, leg or foot. This is caused by some interruption to the circulation and can usually be removed by rubbing or exercise. The reason of the sensation, which is decidedly uncomfortable while it lasts, is that pressure for a certain length of time deadens the sensibility of a nerve. When this pressure is suddenly removed, as straightening out the leg after sitting with it doubled underneath the body, sensibility gradually returns to the nerve, and as each nerve fiber composing the trunk regains its normal condition of sensibility a pricking sensation is felt, and these successive prickings from the successive awakenings of the numerous fibers have not inaptly been called "pins and needles."

Big and Little Bibles.

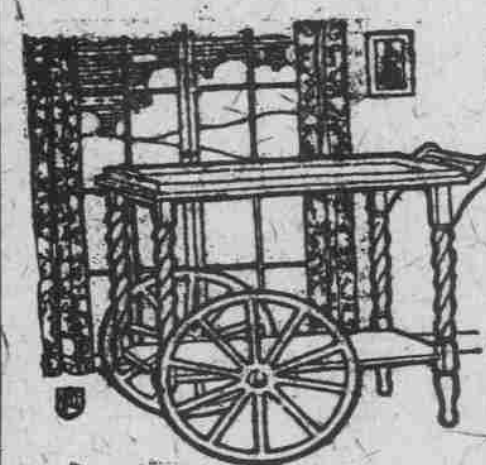

There are no fewer than 140 different editions of the Oxford Bible in English, varying from the magnificent folio edition for pulpit purposes to the "brilliant" Bible, the smallest edition of the Scriptures in the world. Of the revised version fourteen editions are published. More than a million copies of the revised New Testament had been ordered before the day of publication in May of 1881, and it is claimed that the workmen of the establishment refused a bribe of some $4,000 to furnish a copy of the book before the day of issue. The largest folio Bible printed in Oxford measures 19 by 12 inches, and no erratum has as yet been found in it. The "Brilliant Test Bible" measures 8 3/4 by 2 3/4 inches and is three-quarters of an inch thick and bound weighs less than three ounces.—Exchange.
